| IN THE REALM OF VERSES,
| ALL'S FAIR IN THE DANCE OF WORDS.

starrise, one of my favorites to make. and it also hold a special place in my heart as it marks my 10th poem collection. starrise marks the dawn of something new to me, an emotion i know i'm accustomed to feeling to but every time it kisses me, i feel strange to it again, so strange that i don't even have a name for it. this 13-poem collection is all about existence kissing wildly opposite fates and knowing well that this string is good being untouched - but a little chaos makes life have more fun. this collection sees a push and pull of those forces, one that says 'settle because stars are not for you to reach' and the other saying 'get the stars, be one of them.'

so let us embark on this journey together, where the silence of the night is our companion and the stars above are our guiding lights.

yours,

i.

starrise

RENJ

If wanting you are waves of the oceans
Then I am drowning in your potions
I see golden lines above positions
A starrise kissing all of life's horizons

I don't know the name of this emotive memory
But I like getting engulfed in the mystery
It's not a burden but a lot to carry
But I feel this heartstring is not temporary

The world is chaotic so I crafted mine
But now, I see you in every sign
Your thought is soothing, it's beyond fine
You pottered my rigid line

I feel something, I don't know what it is Only the stars knows my query's kiss
A question draped in the curtains of miss
I see your light even in the mist

You can meet me where your light reach
I see them stars reflecting at the beach
I am lost in the structure of your speech
If I could, I'd ties us with a stitch

What is this desire burning life fire
Unidentified but I know the consequences are dire Tied to you in a gravitational wire
Oh the starrise, harmonizing with the choir

Let the star fully form its bands
Around your lovely hands
Reflecting a picture of you in the sands
Seeping through the cracks of my lands

Because everything you do shakes me
I don't the words but I think there are three
I want your glimmer at the highest degree
To be imprisoned with you, I take my plea ii.

enough to dream

RENJ

I feel you running inside me
I'm caged but you are free
My blood is a shade of you
Boiling my thoughts through and through

I live with you every day
But in daydreams you stay
You are inside my mind
But physically, you are nowhere to find

Heaven sent you to the world
Rising as typhoons swirl
You are the gift the universe gave
And from eternal darkness, I am saved

Picture of you looking at the stars
But I stare in your eyes like Mars
And resistance bore a dream
Creating myself an invisible seam

Your voice fills me with wonder Astrophilia's shy of the way you ponder
I feel the stars smiling
Every time you start singing

I want to dance with you beneath
The stars that made us breathe
Let's forget the world and listen to its tune
Like no one ever, not even a rune

You are better than the scent of books
Even better than how it looks
I think I'm brave enough to dream
Never putting luck on my team

Don't stress too much to prove yourself
Your existence is more than help
Every time, every night, your thoughts crossed
And with your cosmos, I am lost iii.

keep your window

RENJ

Stand back, watch me want you
You might say my feelings are not crazy
But if you could see right through
I'm in your fire melting my heart so freezy

Keep your windows open for me please
And let me see your eyes, let me touch your hair
I could be someone special if you please
Through, with the light, let me stare

I can't stay away from the thought of you I can't breathe without you passing by Even for one night, I dream of you as my boo
A chemical reaction painting me like the sky

My home is the thought of you
I can't stay away from the solace of my heart
I wish you could ever have the clue
That you're the artist of dreamscapes and night art

The synths play something on the background
Time and space watch my verses unfold
In your tune I want to be wrapped around Everything you do slowly makes my thorned heart into gold

I don't know the situation, I'm showered in passion
I see you painting 13,000,000 worlds
All's fair in dreams, you put my cosmos into motion
In the realm of verses, all's fair in the dance of words

And I'm never the same, after knowing you
Or the lake thereof, but I want your hands to wrap me
I want to do everything you want to do
Even if you say I dim the stars, or dry the sea

I wanna tell you about me, if you want to hear
Keep your window open for my pigeons
Tell me you'll kiss my word goodnight and hold them dear
So that even in words, I feel a reciprocation of emotions

iv.

Blue, covered in you
Tinged with the coolness
Warmed with your dew
Wrapped in this heavenly slew

Blue, I see you paint me
You caged me and my mind
Inside your hue like that of the sea
Attacking me from behind

Blue, bigger than the sky
Twice as big, shinier than that
The one where birds fly
The one where where ships sit flat

Blue, brighter than narcissism
Over the rainbow of black
I see you like a prism
Reflecting every color back

Blue, like a new feeling
Not the sad one, but the hopeful one Behind moves are a meaning
Just for thought to not be gone

Blue, like the notebook I had Writing a draft for a letter
That wishes to reach you glad
Knowing that your words are infinitely better

Blue, the one roads look up to
As people walk past each others' eyes
But I only see your eyes, only you Because you gave me a heavenly price

Blue, my favorite color
And you manage to blend in Because you are my holy culture
One I'd like to see again and again

v.

the golden disparity

Silence, the rain finds its track
The aroma of falldown hold me back
Bloody railway as clouds start to stack
The sunrays are in shades of grey and black

Thin lines, marking my window with streaks
The birds staring to keep their beaks
I think of the name I've been thinking for weeks
The cold air strikes the location of my eye-leaks

Water rushes down my face the good way
The warning signs I turned down everyday Rose up and went to greet me today
I wish I could make you stay

Distance holding us separately
The sky kissing both our mortality
Existence merely touches our polarity
To only want you is the golden disparity

Walking through the shores of uncertainty
Just to see you with the sky in harmony
And I struck down in my holy animosity
So I could at least appear once in your memory

In coming into doors of back and forth,
I break the walls of my fragile fort
I lose the strongholds from south to the north
I want you so posses me and my earth

Cold nights watching us unfold our histories
Can I be a part in one of your stories?
As I put into the River Styx my elegies
And put into sharp caves by dark allegories

Too dim to be a part of you, the stars still shine
But it would be brighter if you're mine
The way I want my nights to realign
And make our fatestrings intertwine vi.

murmurs of my heart

RENJ

Give me the satisfaction of right
Because I want to do it tonight
What is this feeling that's so bright,
Clearing everything from my sight?

I sit here, watching as the planes fly
Each of them crashing to the sky
Eclipsing my town's ugly cry
Watching as my wilted half-heartedness die

Feeling my pulse skip a bar
Murmurs of my heart reaching the far
My heart is now like a shooting star
Hitting the flare of a running space car

Flashing lights against my face
Eclipsing my never found grace
You make me step a bit from the brace
As I feel my monsters graze

A new sense of belonging whispers
That you'll belong to me, a thought that lingers
Heart untouched by such fateful fingers
But I know we're total strangers

The voice that whispers virtue Makes my head stop for the due
And feel my heart do what it can do
To keep itself from being free from you

You're a chance I'll take if I have one Something I'd want until I'm gone
Because things are never done
Until you glare at me like the sun

Because the murmurs of my heart sees you Waves painting you in a hue of blue
Running away from peace through and through Pulsing within me, veins filled with you vii.

what is this sudden...?

RENJ

What is this sudden coloration?
The grays turned into bright carnation
How can the light that used to pass through Turned into a striking baby blue?

What is this sudden fluctuation?
Every time your name gets mentioned,
Scarlet flow burns both of my cheeks
And made me lift my lips for weeks

What is this sudden desire?
A feeling of the air filled with fire
The air hotter than the flames themselves
Hot perspirations as we stare at ourselves

What is this sudden gush of wind?
Kissing my existence with your gracious blend
Wrapped in the arms of flawed fate
Yet caged inside luck's gate

What is this sudden flow?
The heat just erupts and seems to have a lot to go
Heart melts like butter on a pan
Just that the pan seems to be your grand

What is this sudden move?
The stars shifted to hide a whole grove
But behind them sees a girl that smirks
Watching as her unplanned scheme works

What is this sudden vision?
The color that derailed all of my mission
Tell me where to hide from your eyes
Because I'm not going there even if I turn to ice

What is this sudden thought?
Something valuable that is not store-bought
I see you as someone to lose Though you're not mine first and foremost viii.

stellar eyes

Stellar eyes kissing darkness goodbye
How will we know if we never try?
Would you jump the bridge of with me
And let ourselves be swallowed by the sea?

Your ghost haunts me in the middle of the night
And I feel like I see you in every sight Ages come and go but you stay still Stabbing my mind and heart overkill

I want to share with you my midnights
I want to be with you to watch the lights
As we sit on a bench with us as the glow
Watching the stars 13,000,000 times in a row

And I still continue to hold on to small chances
A fleck in time to pair you in dances
See my excited blood jump just in your thought
To belong with your heart it sought

Sometimes all I wanna do Is wake up
And see your face beside my nap
Brushing my finger on your hair
As my demons push back to their lair

I find myself swimming in the hope of it all
Just to see the dreams I had fall
The sun killing my nights
But you're the fight of all my fights

Sometimes, I just close my eyes and imagine
The life that we both could be in Me showing you the stars of my heart
And show you everything, even from the start

I just know you're like me in some ways
How our stellar eyes just get us through our days
Someday, I'd be one of your favorite sounds Someday, we'd be sitting over the clouds movies

RENJ

Thank you for derailing my plans
Now, I'm locked in your glance
Thank you for burning ashes into flames
Making me look beyond what it seems

Time is the camera that's see-through Past beyond the sky bright and blue
The stars kiss you every night
And you stand-out in broad daylight

Would you even want me, that I'm weird?
Someone who dives into something they feared
Someone who doesn't understand people
But blends in with the full

Plots often tie themselves to reality
But no reality is like a movie
I wish I could paint you frame by frame
And cast me with your fame

Sometimes, I wonder what I look like in your eyes
Wish I could feel how deep are your sighs
Wish I could say my feeling with my lips
And be not afraid of the apocalypse

But you and I is only a movie I could see but not be It's a little in the world of probability Staring at the water, I think of you Wish you would think of me too

Words stuck in the labyrinth of my thoughts
Forming something jagged, chaos of lots
In proving me wrong, you proved me right
That we can't tie time to our mightest might

I see like a book than just a chapter
The thought of you is best over all the better
You became by letters, my poems, my movies
Chaotic, beautiful, overshadowing my cities x.

sucked by the stars

RENJ

It will only feel raw the first time
It will only feel raw the first crime
It will only feel raw the first rhyme
It will only feel raw the first climb

Oh, I'm pulled by cosmic police cars
Starsigns pulling me into you bars
Tying myself into your nears and fars
Oh, I think I'm sucked by the stars

It only feels this vivid right now
It only feels this vivid the first bow
It only feels this vivid the first swallow
This feeling will determine to fade somehow

Oh, I think this might be more permanent Keepers failing to control my sentiment
Mind-runners wanting to have a moment
Oh, I think I'm being swallowed by the omen

But it stays intense even in sleep
It stays intense even in slippery steep
It stays intense even when I walk and slip
It stays intense even if I think deep

Oh, I think the pens write your name
I find your face in every game
A running wildfire I can't tame
Oh, I think the universe danced with the flame

It feels indelible as time progresses
It feels indelible as the world regresses
It feels indelible even as doom expresses
It feels indelible amidst the second-guesses

Oh, my words say your moniker
Draped in the cloak of love conquer
Running away from being somber Oh, I'm falling in your wonder xi.

whispered secret

RENJ

How weird can things get
And keep them as a whispered secret
Against the lips of my room's threat
Lingers past my eyes are set

Moonlit fingers against the sun
Staring at the flag thinking of the one
Something I don't have but feels so gone
A secret until the wind is gone

Coming back to my to my wild ocean
With the picture you surfing over my emotion
Waving at a paralyzing premonition
Trying to set the Stonehenge in motion

You see the stars kiss the darkness of the sky
But I see you keeping my cry
Putting them to rest but never dry
And all I can be to you is shy

This is a whispered secret I tell my stars
Over the thought of chasing cars
The sour sugar I try to bottle in jars
Is starting to spill over bars

I feel your stardust running through my veins
As I see you crashing my planes
Watching myself as your thought reigns
As you watch over my anxious domains

Pain is the biggest regret for things never said
Tell me, is it worth to go beyond my bed,
And finally tell you these feeling instead?
The kind of thoughts I could never shred

What do I get from this whispered secret?
Time is someone you can never raise a bet
Because all it does is forget
But how can I fail to remember even your silhouette xii.

hugging your thought

Girl, you came into my life
And healed all my deadly strife
And I'm painted by your stripe
Sunrise all the time with your hype

And I'm dreaming awake of you
I see things things though
Because my mind is always you
And my bed feels soft as these feeling grew

Take my lips and own it forever
Because I'm not stopping, no, never Because my home is when we're together
Every time our eyes get together

And with you I cannot resist
You're aura is something I can't gist
You tone down my demons and my fist
And my running wildlife ceased

I sleep hugging your thought
Ang waking of having you sought
You cook my daily broth
In front of you, I cannot act smooth

Because I'm an ordinary superstar, you know You're a whole constellation of show
And I want to be the star that's part of you Tell me, and I'd be willing to do

Because girl you crashed to my gate
And I let you touch the string of my fate
The stars are in nebular bathe
Together, I think, we'd be great

Can I enter your door, my queen?
The blue reigned all over green You're the best kingdom that I've ever been If wanting you is illegal, I'm guilty as sin xiii.

moment of shared existence

Every time I close my eyes,
I see a glimpse of the price
Wanting would already suffice
Far from the reality which is demise

Water carving oceans and mountains
Off our eyes, off our sins
Carving our faces ever since
In abysses, or in fountains

Existence barely touched us together
How can lava kiss a feather
Without cooling itself for the other
For a touch that wouldn't last forever

Demise has equal letter count with desire Grasslands love to kiss fire
So is the lowly with the sire
The twins the world has to transpire

But there is beauty in mortal experience
The moment of shared existence
Loosely tied by threads of fateful resonance Destiny entering the tunnel of disobedience

Blood painting us colors of cherry
Swashes of turbulence in memory
The sky screaming back to tell its story
That I'm somehow tied to your glory

Canyons are shy of this feeling's depth
Nothing can scar its clear sheath
Displaying the insides of my ribcage as I breathe
My carelessness behind your stealth

Is it bad that I'm feeling this feeling to much?
Or there is no such thing as such?
I do it all the time, but for now, who am I to judge
If the time I'm diving right now is worth the plunge?
